Archbishop of Milan Is Named New Pope

By EUGENE LEVIN

VATICAN CITY (AP)—In age-old ceremony the College of Cardinals today elected Giovanni Battista Cardinal Montini, archbishop of Milan, the new Pope of the Roman Catholic Church. He chose the name of Paul VI as a symbol of Christian unity.

The new Pope is expected to carry forward the progressive policies of his predecessor, John XXIII, who died June 3 at the age of 81. Pope Paul at 65 is the 262nd ruler of the Roman Catholic Church.

"I have tidings of great joy," proclaimed a cardinal to thousands who jammed St. Peter's Square. "We have a Pope."

In line with tradition, Pope Paul then appeared on the balcony at 12:21 p.m. to make his first public appearance as the chief pastor of the world's half-billion Roman Catholics. It was an hour after the white smoke puffing from the chimney of the Sistine Chapel had first signaled his election.

Only for an instant did the voice of the new Pope shake with emotion as he gave his first blessing, "Urbi et orbi," to the City of Rome and to the world. His message rang out clear and strong to the crowds below. They responded with a great roar.

He stayed on the balcony for five minutes, clad in papal robes of white, with a white skullcap. An embroidered papal stole draped his shoulders. Gray-haired, blue-eyed, he presented a figure of great dignity and fine physical appearance.

As he delivered the blessing he made the sign of the cross toward the crowd.

Then he returned to the Sistine Chapel to again receive the homage of the College of Cardinals who had chosen him Pope.

The throng was told that the new Pope had granted them a full indulgence—a remission before God of temporal punishment due for sins.

Eighty princes of the church elected the Milan archbishop on the second day of their secret conclave in the Sistine Chapel. He had been regarded as a favorite.

The election came on the fifth or sixth ballot.

He was archbishop of Milan for the past eight years and worked closely with Pope John during his reign of four years and seven months.

A Vatican diplomat, he was pro-secretary of state for Pope Pius XII.

As the tidings were given to the throngs in St. Peter's Square the great bell of St. Peter's—the campanone—rang out. Other churches took up the peal.

The new Pope went all the way back to the 17th century to take the name of the Roman, Paul V, who died in 1621. In this he followed the example set by John XXIII, who chose a name that had not been used for centuries.

Raimondo Manzini, editor of L'Osservatore Romano, explained to newsmen the significance of the Pope's name:

"It is a symbol of ecumenical unity, venerated by Catholics, Protestants and the Orthodox."

Pope Paul moved dynamically in starting his pontificate. He immediately named Amleto Cardinal Cicognani as his secretary of state. Cardinal Cicognani had been Pope John's secretary of state.

The choice of name and the decision on his secretary of state showed the new Pope's intention to follow the path traced by his predecessor.

Vatican press officials said the Pope's coronation would be June 29. They said he might deliver a message to the world Saturday.

The conclave which elected him was one of the shortest on record, lasting only three voting sessions.

Its ending and the election of a pontiff were signaled to the crowd in St. Peter's Square by white smoke that began pouring from the Sistine Chapel smokestack at 11:20 a.m. The crowd cheered "Bianco!"—"White!"

Had no Pope been elected, the smoke would have been black, as it was at the end of the two voting sessions Thursday.

Crowds poured into warm, sunlit St. Peter's Square as word of the election spread over Rome. Soon more than 100,000 were jammed into the square.

More Showers Are Predicted

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

More showers were in prospect for Arkansas today as the state nears the end of a week of dampness.

A general rain broke a three-week drought last weekend and there has been some kind of shower activity in the state every day since.

Showers were reported in all sections of the state this morning and were in the forecast in most sections through tonight. Warmer temperatures were forecast for Friday.

Dehydrated Foods a Lot Lighter

FT. STEWART, Ga. (AP)—The new dehydrated foods being tested by the Army are a lot lighter to carry and easier to store but most important of all they taste good.

That's the verdict of some of the soldiers taking part in a special warfare school exercise known as Water Moccasin IV. They like the dehydrated steak especially.

"It looks like a little piece of cardboard before it's prepared," said Army cook Alex C. Jacobs "but afterward it looks like a steak again."

Thinks U.S. Base Should Help Exiles

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., said today a provisional Cuban government could be established on the U.S. naval base at Guantanamo "without the slightest risk."

He said such a proposal, advanced in the Senate Monday by Sen. Gordon Allott, R-Colo., warrants careful consideration by the administration "as a means of establishing a free Cuban outpost directed toward the eventual liberation of Cuba from the Fidel Castro regime."

Goldwater, a prominently mentioned prospect for the 1964 Republican presidential nomination, said in an address prepared for a Rotary Club luncheon that an exile government on the U.S. base could be the starting place for a forward-looking policy to end Soviet military presence in Cuba— "always assuming that the Kennedy administration actually wants a policy of liberation in that area."

About the only risk such action would run, the senator declared, would be the risk of incurring Soviet Premier Khrushchev's displeasure.

"But I believe the American people are fully prepared for the consequences of any such development," Goldwater added. "I believe they are completely fed up with the nothing policy of the New Frontier. They've gone along for months with the 'watchful waiting' of the Kennedy administration and nothing has happened except that the Russians are dug in deeper and the Castro Communists are stronger than ever."

Newly Divorced Heir Weds Again

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Recently divorced oil heir Edward L. Doheny III, is married again, his attorney reports.

Attorney Vernon Barrett disclosed Thursday that Doheny has taken the former Joyce Annett Vanderbilt as his bride. She is the widow of millionaire sportsman George Vanderbilt.

The couple obtained a license last Monday in suburban Santa Ana, and were married the following day at the home of Doheny's uncle, C. Warren Smith of Newport Beach, Calif.

Doheny, 46, was divorced last Friday in Reno, Nev., from his wife, Margaret.

Mrs. Vanderbilt was the fourth wife of George Vanderbilt, who died June 24, 1961 in a plunge from a San Francisco hotel. She gave her residence as Honolulu, Hawaii.

C. C. Clark, 67, of Emmet, Dies

Charlie C. Clark, aged 67, died Thursday in a Prescott hospital. He was a resident of Emmet, a retired farmer and a Baptist.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Edna Gurn Clark; a son, Everett Clark of Emmet; two daughters, Edie Clark of Emmet and Mrs. J. P. Clower of Robline, La.; a sister, Mrs. Elbert Curtis of Conran, Mo.; three halfbrothers, Floyd Howell of Hollywood, Fla., Delmer Howell of Conran, and Elmer Howell of San Bernardino, Calif.

Services will be held at 2:30 p. m. Saturday at Emmet Baptist Church by the Rev. Kenneth Edmonson. Burial by Oakerest Funeral Home will be in Memory Gardens here.

Cuban Exiles Await Word of Commandos; A Report Says 3,000 Liberators Landed

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The Cuban Revolutionary Council and thousands of exiles awaited word today from commandos the council said it had put on Fidel Castro's shores to launch "the beginning of the liberation of Cuba."

There was no confirmation from Cuban or United States governments of such landings. The council said it expected a progress report by radio today from fighting men it said were welcomed by peasants and who swiftly joined forces with area guerrilla bands.

Sketchy and unauthenticated broadcasts pointed to southern Oriente, Cuba's easternmost province, as the possible site of landings and perhaps clashes.

One such broadcast Thursday night reported a "Camilo Cienfuegos Battalion" landed and met overwhelming opposition at Caney de Las Mercedes, near Manzanillo which is 280 miles west of the U.S. naval base at Guantanamo Bay. But a former Caney de Las Mercedes resident who heard the same news said "Camilo Cienfuegos" was the name of a Castro youth communism indoctrination school there. He said the report indicated invaders were hotly besieging it.

Another exile said a broadcast on the 40 meter band said, "This is the Cuban Anti-Communist Liberation Army. Go ahead Pinar del Rio." Pinar del Rio is the name of Cuba's easternmost province.

A Cuban military network broadcast mentioned no landings, but warned servicemen, especially in naval units, to be alert for anything unusual.

The revolutionary council, in its surprise announcement Thursday morning, withheld the number, departure points and landing sites of the forces it said landed recently in groups of 8 to 10.

The U.S. State and Defense Departments said they had no information of any landings and expressed doubt that substantial numbers of men or arms could be landed in Cuba without its knowledge.

But Rep. Paul Rogers, D-Fla., said he was advised by sources reliable in the past that more than 3,000 men infiltrated Cuba at three coastal points. He refused to identify the sources.

Historic Steel, Labor Pact Is Reached

By LOU PRATO

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A historic steel-labor agreement which could possibly revolutionize collective bargaining was reached Thursday by the United Steelworkers Union and 11 major steel producers.

The agreement, seen as a partial answer to the industry's unemployment ills, marks the first time a settlement has been concluded in the basic steel industry without a strike or threat of a strike.

No wage hike is included in the pact which features an extended vacation plan for senior employees, the first such plan in the industry.

The agreement, which will cost the companies an estimated 45 cents an hour per man-hour worked also includes new hospital, health and insurance benefits.

The contract is effective for 21 months, starting Aug. 1, and insures steel labor peace during the 1964 presidential election. Each side will have the right to terminate the pact upon 120 days notice after Jan. 1, 1965.

Announcement of the agreement—reached without formal collective bargaining—was made jointly by labor and management executives at a news conference following a three-hour ratifying session of the union's international wage policy committee.

In Washington, the White House said President Kennedy was gratified by the early agreement. But further comment was withheld until the contract terms could be studied.

The agreement culminates about 5½ months of discussions by the joint union-industry Human Relations Committee, a body created after the bitter 116-day strike in 1959 to examine mutual problems. Under the current two-year contract, the union has had the right since May 1 to re-open formal negotiations. That would have automatically imposed a 90-day strike deadline.

Steelworker President David J. McDonald, who serves as co-chairman of the 10-man committee with R. Conrad Cooper, executive vice president of U.S. Steel, credited the group with doing "a magnificent job," adding, "some said it couldn't be done, but we did it."

Cooper, who has been the industry's chief negotiator in previous labor talks, said, "The Human Relations Committee has enabled the parties to discuss the issues calmly and reasonably without the pressure of any fixed deadline. At this time in the history of collective bargaining, this is a significant development."

Bryant Holds Up Printing Contracts

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Secretary of State Kelly Bryant postponed taking of bids on 73 state printing contracts Thursday and said he would seek an attorney general's opinion on 14 questioned contracts.

Bryant was faced with the refusal of State Auditor Jimmie (Red) Jones to sign the 14 contracts. Jones said they are restrictive, overlapping, contain dual specifications or are couched in confusing terms.

Bids were to have been taken at 11 a.m. today.

Jones maintains that if he, as a member of the state Printing Board, does not sign the contracts, they will not be valid.

Jones exhibited Thursday 16 telegrams from printing firms around the state, siding with him in his conventions. Among the firms was Parkin Printing and Stationery Co., which lost over $1 million in contracts last year because of a state Supreme Court ruling.

The court ruled that the firm was ineligible for the contracts since its president, Harry W. Parkin, was a member of the Highway Commission. Parkin later resigned his state post.

Bryant said "there have been misunderstandings which have grown out of proportion." He did not mention a possible date for taking of new bids.

Demo Leaders Hit Trouble on Rights Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate Democratic leaders encountered opposition today in their efforts to enlist the support of 50 senators for President Kennedy's package civil rights bill.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, the assistant Democratic leader, predicted that backers would be able to sign up half of the senators as cosponsors of the bill by a 4 p.m. deadline Monday. The list stood at 43 today.

But it was obvious that Humphrey was meeting with objections to certain segments of Kennedy's far-reaching proposals.

The chief stumbling bloc, so far as the administration was concerned, lay in Republican opposition to a section which would provide for desegregation of privately owned stores, hotels, motels and other businesses serving the public.

This provision apparently made many GOP members reluctant to sign up as cosponsors. Only nine Republicans were listed, along with 34 Democrats, among the 43 backers of the package bill.

U.S. Sees No Speedy Arms Agreement

By LEWIS GULICK

WASHINGTON (AP)—U. S. officials cautioned today against expecting speedy East-West accord on other disarmament proposals just because Washington and Moscow have agreed to set up a hot line.

While the for-emergencies communications link agreed on in Geneva Thursday is a welcome step forward, they said, other more substantial arms control issues are still in deadlock at the 17-nation disarmament conference.

Looming as the next main goal in disarmament effort is a nuclear test ban. Undersecretary of State W. Averell Harriman will lead a U. S. mission to Moscow in mid-July for a renewed attempt at a treaty to outlaw atomic explosions.

So far, U. S. officials said, the Soviets have shown no sign of yielding their opposition to inspections the West says are necessary to safeguard a test ban against cheating.

The U. S.-Soviet confrontation in the Cuban missile crisis last fall appears to have been a principal spur for the hot line agreement concluded in Geneva between disarmament negotiators Charles C. Stelle for the United States and Semyon K. Tsarapkin for the Soviet Union.

Even the urgent messages between President Kennedy and Soviet Premier Khrushchev took hours to clear through the normal diplomatic channels. At the peak of the October crisis, both governments heads resorted to public statements flashed around the world almost instantaneously by news services.

The new Washington-Moscow hot line setup will use facilities similar to those of the commercial wire services.

U. S. officials predicted the hot line facilities will be completed in 60 days.

IFK Sends $1,000 to Aid Premiere

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—President Kennedy has sent a $1,000 person, at check to a committee planning a benefit premiere for the movie "PT 109," a film about the President's World War II exploits.

The benefit at the Beverly Hills Hotel July 2 will raise funds for a child mental health center named in honor of the President's brother, Joseph P. Kennedy Jr., who was killed in World War II. The center is in nearby Santa Monica.

Mrs. Peter Lawford, the President's sister, is chairman of the benefit. Their mother, Rose Kennedy, will be guest of honor at the premiere.

Why Lion Oil Company now offers you a choice of 5 different grades of gasoline at 5 prices

Through no fault of their own, six out of 10 car owners today are buying the wrong grade of gasoline. Now Lion Octane Blending permits you to select the specific grade of gasoline to assure best engine performance in your particular car.

Are you sure you are buying the correct grade of gasoline for your car?

Research tells us that six out of 10 cars are using the wrong grade gasoline. If you buy premium or super premium, the octane rating may be higher than your engine was designed to use. You are wasting power. You are wasting money. On the other hand, regular or sub-regular may cause engine damage, with knocking and loss of power, if your engine requires a higher octane fuel.

Why did this problem exist? Until now, most car owners could choose between regular and premium only. Two grades do not meet the wide range of octane requirements of almost 60 per cent of the cars on the road today. Four car owners out of 10 buy premium, with octane power their cars can't possibly use. Two buy regular, risking engine damage because their cars need a higher octane gasoline.

Does Lion Octane Blending remedy this situation? Definitely yes!

You can now buy precisely the right grade of gasoline for your car at the Lion Oil Dealer's. Lion offers five different grades of Lion Octane-Blended Gasoline at five different prices. Lion Gasoline now comes in regular, in premium and in three grades in between.

How do you know you get precisely the grade to fit your car?

Find the year and model of your make of car listed in the Lion Octane-Blended Gasoline chart, compiled by automotive engineers. It tells you by number the best grade for your car. These five grades range from premium 580 through 560, 540, 520 to regular 500. The chart includes all American cars up to seven years old. All older models and most foreign makes use Lion 500. You can get a copy of this chart at your Lion Service Station.

How does Lion Octane Blending work?

The Lion Dealer sets the blend selector dial on the side of the pump to the grade number recommended for your car. The Lion Octane Blending Pump draws two separate fuels from two separate underground tanks. One contains regular gasoline, the other high octane premium. The two fuels are blended to create the precise grade your engine needs.

How can you save money by buying Lion Octane-Blended Gasoline?

The lower the grade, the less it costs per gallon. If you have been buying premium (equivalent to Lion Blend 580), and the chart says your car will run efficiently on Lion Blend 520, you can save three cents a gallon every time you buy gasoline. In other words, the lower the octane rating your car needs, the more you save.

Why is Lion Octane-Blended Gasoline a top-quality fuel?

Each blend that you get from the Lion Octane Blending Pump is top-quality Lion Gasoline with exclusive Lionite® additive. It contains all the ingredients to prevent pre-ignition knock or ping, keep engine parts free of harmful deposits, and perform trouble-free in all weather conditions.

Lion Octane Blending is the smart new way to buy gasoline, offered only by your Lion Oil Dealer. When you stop at your Lion Oil Dealer's, he'll help you select the correct blend for your car. No more power than your engine can use—and no less than you need. Change to Lion Octane-Blended Gasoline, and keep the change.

Available only where you see the new Lion Octane Blending Pump.

Jerry Expert on Brother Relations

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Jerry Van Dyke, at 31 on the threshold of an exciting television career, is a comedian who is something of an expert on brotherly relationships. His expertise has really been forced upon him. He is the look-alike younger brother of Dick Van Dyke and chose to follow his brother into show business-comedy department. But there, Jerry insists, the similarity ends.

"I've done a little checking," Jerry admitted, "and I can't find a single instance where a younger brother was as successful as an older brother in show business. Fortunately, I don't go in for the same type of comedy as Dick."

During recent years when Dick, almost six years older, was becoming a skillful actor specializing in comedy, Jerry had been developing his night-club routine—telling unsophisticated jokes, strutting on his old banjo and creating a lovable low-key, dopey character which, he hopes, is identifiable to his audiences. He walked into the national spotlight last season, appearing in two episodes of "The Dick Van Dyke Show," playing hero Robb's younger brother. CBS promptly put him under contract.

Next Tuesday night he will start his summer chores as host on CBS "Picture This, a game show replacing Jack Benny for the season. And, in the fall, he will appear as a comedy regular on "The Judy Garland Show, one of the new seasons really big new programs.

The combination has turned Jerry into one of the transcen-

Parleys a 2 Week Job Into 8 Years

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-Television Writer

ANAHEIM, Calif. (AP)—Wally Boag was signed on a two-week deal. Eight years and 13,000 performances later, he is still starring in the Golden Horseshoe Revue at Disneyland.

There must be some kind of a record there. Five times a day, Wally comes on the stage of the Frontier Playhouse and convulses the crowd of Californians and tourists.

"You're going to read about me in the newspapers," he says grandly, adding: "I smoke in bed."

The audience roars. He looks like a campus cutup, which is a neat trick for a man in his 40s. He wears a bogus Western costume with six-shooters, which he fires occasionally to make sure everyone is paying attention.

He blows up balloons and fashions them into animal shapes, maintaining a fast patter through out. He does a loose-jointed dance, plays the bagpipes and shoots water pistols.

To prove he will do anything, he duffs his toupee and replaces it backward. Greater love for a laugh hath no actor.

The remarkable thing about his performance is not only that it is funny to hick and sophisticate alike. It is amazing that he can make each show seem as if he were auditioning.

How does he maintain his enthusiasm?

"The audiences," he replied. "They are great. Once in a while you get a cold audience; then it's a challenge to work harder and make them laugh."

"It's strange with some of the teenagers. They have never seen live entertainment; all they know is television. They just sit there openmouthed, not knowing what to do. But the oldtimers—the ones who are 60 and over—know what vaudeville was. They love the show."

Wally Boag has known every kind of audience from the time he was 19 and left Portland, Ore., to seek his fortune in show business. Vaudeville had just about expired, but he managed to get his seasoning in its dying days, doing his act with big-band units that toured theaters.

In 1955 he ran into tenor Donald Novis, with whom he had appeared in Australia. Novis mentioned he was planning to work for his friend Walt Disney at the new Disneyland Park and suggested Wally try out for it. Wally did, performing his act on a cold stage at the studio. Walt laughed, and that was enough.

Said Boag: "I have to laugh when my old buddies feel sorry for me because I'm still playing at Disneyland. Brother, they can have the night club drunks, the empty houses, the cheap hotels, the constant travel. I have a daughter 16 and a son 14 and I wouldn't know them if I didn't have this job. As it is, I'm home every night."

Shakedown Reveals Strange Weapons

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—The County Jail underwent a periodic shakedown for weapons this week and the usual prosaic items were found:

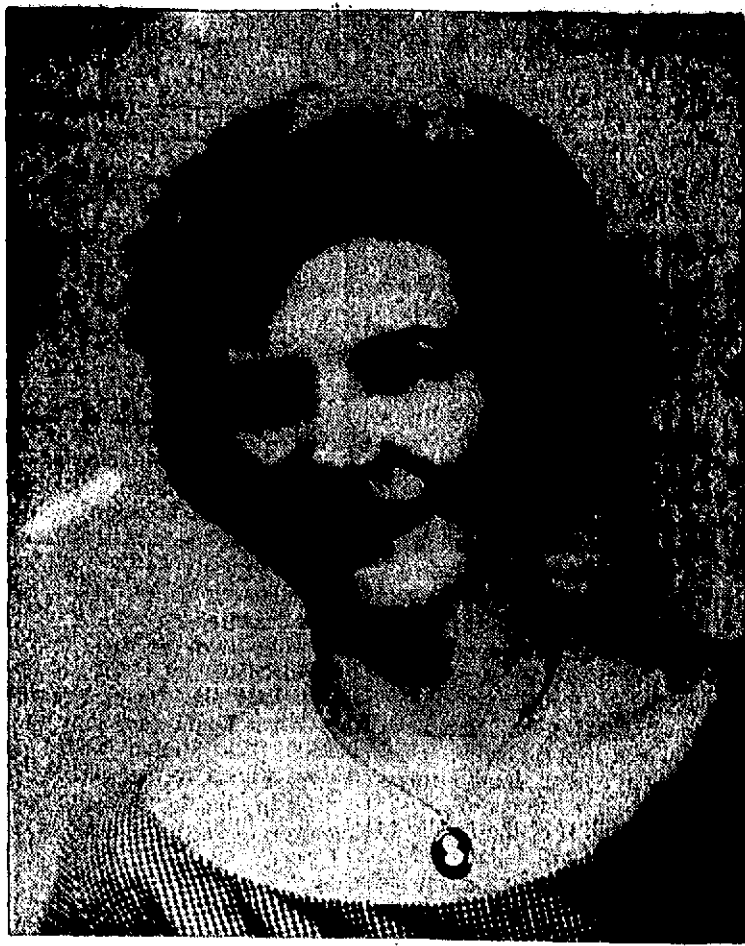

A blackjack made from soap mixed with sugar and left to dry rockhard; two short lengths of plumbing pipe and a pair of TV rabbit ears that officers said make handy stilettos when filed. There also was one unusual item:

A handmade crap table, 4-feet by 1½ feet, the cardboard sides skillfully sewn together with strips from a mattress cover. A strip of blanket covered with part of a mattress cover made a smooth throwing surface.

It even had a night light for use after 11 p.m. lights out.

Because Henry DeTonti made the first white settlement in the state, he is known as "The Father of Arkansas."

mental airlines best customers. Hell split each week evenly between California, where the Garland show soon goes into production, and New York, where "Picture This" will be made. It works out so that his day off, if any, will be in California where he lives in Sherman Oaks with his wife and two young daughters.

Miss Crank To Wed

Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Crank of Hope announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Wanda, to Jimmy Easterling, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher Easterling of Hope, Route 4.

After their wedding on July 20th and a trip to Northern Arkansas, the couple will be home in Hope.

Mrs. Jimmy L. Daniels

The marriage of Miss Tamara Namemek and Jimmy L. Daniels was solemnized on May 17 at 7 o'clock at the First Presbyterian Church with the pastor, Rev. David Sheppardson, Jr., officiating the double ring ceremony.

Miss Namemek is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Namemek of Warren.

Mr. Daniels is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Daniels of Bodeau. Dressed in traditional white, the bride entered the sanctuary on the arm of her father. Her maid of honor and only attendant was Miss Robbie O'Neil, while John Luther Hartsell served the groom as best man.

The place of the ceremony was flanked by seven-branched floor candelabra holding burning white tapers. White gladioli and Chrysanthemums were placed on the altar table.

Mrs. Daniels is a graduate of Warren High School.

Mr. Daniels attended Southern State College and is a graduate of the University of Arkansas. He has taken a military leave of absence from the Soil Conservation Service to serve in the United States Navy for two years, where he will be stationed on the USS Midway.

The bride will make her home with her husband's family while he is in the service.

DOROTHY DIX

WHERE IS THE BLUSHING BRIDE OF YESTERDAY?
B HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: Here we are in June, the month of weddings and I'll bet half the gals and 99 per cent of the boys who march to the altar are pretty knowledgeable about sex. Take that "Uncertain Male" that queried you recently on petting. He said his girl would kiss and hug then stop, saying she didn't want to go too far, but he felt that if they really loved one another they should go all the way.

I may be old-fashioned but I still feel that any discussions or experiments pertaining to sex should be after, not before, the wedding.

What has happened to our society that it seems to not only approve but demand couples to experiment before marriage? Where is the Blushing Bride of Yesterday? I was so-called "inexperienced" when I married two years ago, yet my husband and I have a darling baby and are very happy. I feel every bride should come to her husband pure, untarnished and completely innocent.

Acquire experience with time, patience and mutual understanding. That sounds like Granny herself but I am young, can face my husband and baby with a clear conscience and am glad I never went all the way before marriage. It's a pretty wonderful feeling. —Happy in Marriage

"Blushing Bride of Yesterday" is on a wedding trip in a 1963 sedan. She is in the front seat of this car, and it may very well be the same car in whose back seat she refused to surrender what she knew, instinctively, was an intimacy that belongs to the institution of marriage.

The boy who really loves a girl, who has more than a shallow understanding of the word "love" will understand, or be willing to learn, that the cost of premarital sexual adventure to a girl can be terribly steep. Moonlight, music and all other romantic influences have a way of dissolving into the painful consequences of premature sex.

Yes, I've heard a great deal about the "emancipated, enlightened" girl of today, but I also note that somehow all this enlightenment and emancipation have not removed the heartache and tears from the situation confronting the unmarried, pregnant girl and the unwed mother. There is the dangerous middle ground of abortion and possible tragedy.

Can a man who loves a girl want that for her? Can a girl who knows what life is all about do other than ask a boy who loves her to invest a little patience in their mutual happiness?

It's a never-ending source of wonder to me that the male who sows wild oats in his youth usually prefers to marry somebody who didn't cooperate in the sowing. There is a difference between the erotic desires of man and his attitudes born of genuine love.

Sex is wonderful. It's normal, wholesome, and a powerful part of the human state. It's so good, in fact, that it is worth waiting for worth anticipating, worth sharing in the natural, protective context of marriage. Hokey for you, "Happy in Marriage," and hooray!

for the old-fashioned "blushing bride" of yesterday and today.

Dear Helen: We are a group of girls who are as close as sisters. Our problem is with one girl friend in particular. She is popular with the boys and usually going steady but to keep them guessing she gets huffy every now and then, pretending there are others she likes better.

The boys pour out their troubles to us then try to arouse her jealousy by dating one of us. This makes her furious. We feel she, not we, is in the wrong. We like her and want to be the best of friends always but—she doesn't play fair. What can we do? —B. F., L. G., L. M., and J. T.

Dear Girls: A close and loyal association of five girls is very fine but I wonder if ground rules for dating are necessary or desirable. In affairs of the heart, it's generally every woman for herself.

Let your friend huff and puff all she wishes. She is probably enjoying herself.

If any one of you feels like dating someone else's jealous swain, that's your prerogative. She has no right to censure you, nor should you accuse her of being "in the wrong." Remember, "All's fair in love," so why war about it? Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for my leaflet, "A Sense of Humor."

XXXV

The next day I half-regretted that I would not be going to school; to teach. Midmorning, being restless, I decided to go down town, do some errands, pick up my car. I had seen both Lovey and Keyes go off to school quite as usual. I supposed Smokey was at the hospital. As usual.

I swung down the street, a scarf tied around my hair, a stiff breeze whipping its ends behind me. When I had gone only three blocks, Dick Hinton pulled his station wagon to the curb.

"Get in, Jannie," he said, leaning over to open the door. I shook my head. "I want to walk."

"And I want to talk. So get in, girl."

I decided it wasn't worth a scene there on the street, so I got into the car, arranged my skirt, and closed the door.

"Dick nodded. 'How's Smokey?' he asked, starting the car."

"I don't know." I was careful to keep my manner light. "Last night, he said he was tired."

"Why shouldn't he be?" asked Dick. "When a man's been in peril of his life—"

"Was he, Dick?" I asked. "Was he, really?"

Dick glanced at me. "Sure he was, Jannie. That hoodlum—and then, the hearing which could have meant a trial—"

"But was he ever in danger of being convicted?"

"He was," said Dick gravely. "In the greatest danger old Smokey will ever face."

He meant what he said. I had to accept it. I didn't talk any more for a full block. Then—

"What's gone on, Dick," I asked him. "That I don't know about?"

Dick stopped for the light. Then he turned his head to look at me. "Are you going to marry the guy, Jannie?" he demanded.

"If he asks me to, Dick. And I hope he does."

"Do you want to?"

I stared at him. "I love him, Dick."

"That isn't exactly what I meant. But after what happened—that came out at the hearing—would you have no doubts about the man?"

About Smokey? I shook my head. "None whatever!" I said emphatically.

Dick drove on. "Good!" He was smiling a little. "Then I shall tell you—I should tell you—that Smokey did not kill that man, Jannie. Not even in self-defense."

I felt the numbness of fear and dread come again into my fingers, and I rubbed them together.

"That is a truth," Dick said, "that I think you should be able to hold in your heart, though never speak of, Jannie."

I stared at him stupidly. I simply did not understand.

He flapped one of his hands impatiently. "I'm supposed to have no official knowledge of this," he told me. He looked cross. I supposed he had wanted me to comprehend without being told.

dead! He had been shot . . . "Do you mean," I cried, my voice squeaking, "that Keyes . . . ?"

He put his finger across my lips. "Everyone knows it, Jannie," he told me. "But no one yet—has said it."

I flounced back into the seat. "I didn't know it!" I told him. Now I was the angry one.

Dick pulled into the parking lot back of the courthouse. My car still sat there, beaded with overnight moisture. I looked at Dick, and he was smiling at me.

"Of course," I said ruefully, "my brother Charley says I'm so dumb that it's a good thing I teach only the first grade."

All at once, I was feeling wonderful. A heavy load—I could feel that heavy load slide from my shoulders, and from my heart. Now I knew that Smokey—

I knew, too, what Smokey and Keyes had meant when they had talked about blackmail. "Each one of us to do, the best he can, what the other thinks is right."

I felt like singing, like dancing. I turned to Dick. "Oh," I gasped. "Smokey is wonderful, isn't he?"

Dick nodded. "He's wonderful," he agreed soberly. "He thought he should save Keyes, at all costs, from carrying the onus of having killed a man."

"But the boys know," I said. "Of course he does and the knowledge will always be a burden to him. But public knowledge would keep the matter fresh. Someone would always be ready to renew the story."

escaped injury. They said the shotgun blast dented the right front fender and hubcap of their cruiser.

Negro integration leaders pledged renewed mass demonstrations today.

This industrial city of approximately 60,000 was quiet Wednesday after 100 state troopers broke up a sit-in demonstration on the courthouse lawn.

Negroes accused the officers of brutality, but Col. Albert Lingo, state public safety director who heads the troopers, denied his men struck anyone with clubs.

The troopers used their hands, billy clubs and electric shock sticks of the type used to control cattle to disperse the crowd.

During the night officers confiscated from both Negroes and white persons four pistols, two rifles, two shotguns and several baseball bats. Lingo issued a plea for outsiders to stay out of the situation.

At a Negro rally Wednesday night, integration leaders said demonstrations would begin today at the courthouse in protest to the jailing Tuesday of 336 demonstrators. They were arrested for violating a state injunction against breach of peace demonstrations.

A white supremacist organization was urged to take action.

O'Toole Hurls Redlegs to Win Over Phillies

By JIM BECKER

Associated Press Sports Writer Cincinnati's Jim O'Toole will never lead the shrinking violet league.

He'll tell you he's quite a pitcher, and then go right out and show you with his good left arm.

He showed the Philadelphia Phillies Thursday night, 11-1, and ran his record to 13-3, the top victory total in the majors. The brash Irishman, 26, also lowered his earned run average to 2.01, a pretty good talking point.

The fourth-place Reds gained one-half game on the three National League leaders, the St. Louis Cardinals, San Francisco Giants and Los Angeles Dodgers, who all were idle.

The Chicago Cubs, just one percentage point back of the Reds, kept pace with a 5-0 beating of the Houston Colts.

In the only other game on the National League schedule, Denny Lemaster, who has suddenly acquired the home run habit, pitched and batted the Milwaukee Braves to a 2-1 decision over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

The cellar New York Mets were also idle, although they invaded Yankee Stadium with 50,000 fans and trimmed the Yankees 6-2 in an exhibition game. It took the police and some nimble ushers to keep the Mets fans from taking the Yankees' world champions pennant home for a souvenir of the occasion.

In the American League, the Yankees polished off the cellar Washington Senators 5-4 in a game that counted for their seventh straight. Minnesota beat the second-place Chicago White Sox 9-4. Cleveland trimmed Baltimore 11-8 and Boston pinned the tenth straight loss on Detroit 8-3. Kansas City and Los Angeles were idle.

Chicago ace Larry Jackson, making his 16th start and going the distance for the seventh time, gave up only four singles to the Colts as he pitched his eighth win and third shutout.

Billy Williams cracked two homers to spark the Cubs offense. Williams now has 14 hits in his last 23 trips. Ex-Cub Dick Drott was the victim.

Lemaster, who had won only two games previously despite a 2.06 earned run average, hit his second major league homer for the winning margin against the Pirates. He hit his only other homer in his last game.

Harvey Haddix was the loser. Eddie Mathews hit his ninth homer for the Braves and Ron Brand hit his first major league homer for the Pirates.

Owner Has to Claim Auto
LOS ANGELES (AP)—A judge says that 19-year-old actress Tuesday Weld may be too young to have an automobile in her name, but if she owns one she has to claim it as an asset.

Superior Judge Clyde C. Triplett ruled Thursday that the $5,000 vehicle must be included in a list of the actress' assets by her guardian, her mother, Yvonne Weld.

Mrs. Weld—in a routine accounting—said her daughter had assets of $42,661, mostly in stocks and bonds and excluding the automobile. Most of the young actress' assets were inherited from her paternal grandmother, Sarah Weld of Boston, the document said.

Bill Dailey Has Finally Found a Home

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer

It took Bill Dailey 10 years to find a home, but he's finally arrived.

Home is the Minnesota bullpen, but as often as not, Daileys been forced to leave on business. He got the call again Thursday for the 2nd time, pitched scoreless ball for four innings and preserved the Twins' 9-4 triumph over the second-place Chicago White Sox.

Acquired from Cleveland for $40,000, the right-hander, 28, has turned into one of the American Leagues top firemen since he altered his stride toward the plate early in the season.

Dailey's sharp relief pitching dropped the White Sox two games back of the first-place New York Yankees, who edged last-place Washington 5-4 on Bobby Richardson's two-run double in the ninth inning and ran their winning streak to seven games.

Boston added to Detroit's troubles 8-3, with home runs by Dick Stuart and Chuck Schilling sending the Tigers down to their 10th straight setback. Cleveland rode Max Alvis' grand slam homer to an 11-8 victory over Baltimore.

Kansas City and the Los Angeles Angels were not scheduled.

In the National League, Chicago's Cubs blanked Houston 5-0, Milwaukee nipped Pittsburgh 2-1 and Cincinnati walloped Philadelphia 11-1. The other clubs were idle.

Richardson drilled a Jim Coates pitch to right for the runs that made it eight losses in a row for the Senators. Coates, 2-4, took the loss with Marshall Bridges, 2-0, the winner in relief. Yogi Berra relinquished his coaching duties for New York, donned his catching gear and hit a two-run homer.

Stuart's 17th homer, driving in his 43rd run, ignited a five-run Red Sox rally in the fourth inning capped by a two-run double by pitcher Arnold Earley and Schilling's homer. Earley, 3-2, got the victory, while Jim Bunning, 4-6, was tagged with the loss and a $50 fine by Umpire Hank Sear when he hit Roman Mejias with a pitch after Schilling connected.

The Indians came from behind with six runs in the seventh inning to beat the Orioles. Jerry, Kin-dall's two-run single tied the score, then Alvis put it out of reach. Joe Azcue hit two homers for the Indians and Woodie Held chipped in with one. Jim Gentile and losing pitcher Dick Hall, 2-2, connected for Baltimore. Jerry Walker, 6-1, was the winner.

Tripples—Pinson, Cincinnati, 9; Brock, Chicago, and Skinner, Cincinnati, 6.

Home runs—H. Aaron, Milwaukee, 20; Banks, Chicago, 15. Stolen bases—Robinson, Cincinnati, 21; Pinson, Cincinnati, 19.

Pitching (Seven decisions)—Maloney, Cincinnati, 10-2; O'Toole, Cincinnati, 13-3.

Strikeouts—Drysdale, Los Angeles, 112; Koufax, Los Angeles, 111.

They Had a Real Brawl at Ball Game

By BOB GREEN

Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Ah, but what a beautiful night it was. Ol Case came home and his followers almost ripped up Yankee Stadium. The Mets beat the Yanks and Jimmy Piersall hit a cop.

It all took place at the Mayor's Charity game Thursday night when Casey Stengel led his New York Mets across the Harlem River to do battle with the world champion Yankees for the benefit of New York's sandlot baseball program.

Some 52,000 of the New Breed followed their 10th-place heroes into the House that Ruth Built. They howled and yelled and stamped their feet. They chanted and cheered and beat each other on the head with programs. They tossed some firecrackers and tried to swipe the pennant and some of them got collared by the cops.

And when it was all over, the Mets haughtily stalked out of the stadium with a 6-2 victory over the surprised, chagrined Yankees, who had to leave by a back exit.

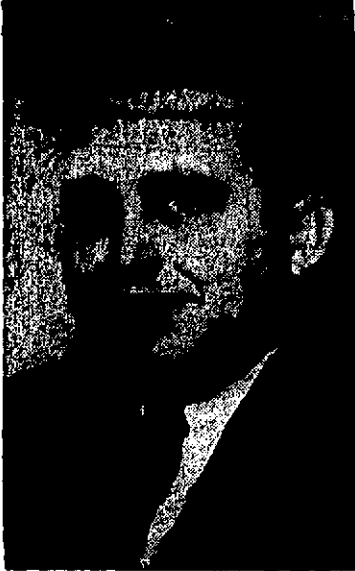

"Don't go out through the front, Yankee equipment man Pete Previte told them in the dressing room afterwards. 'They're crazy out there. The cops are all inside the ball park trying to clear the field. Go out the back way.'"

The police at that time, immediately after the game, had their own problems. They were trying to clear thousands of shouting, milling fans from the grounds.

A quick dash got stadium ushers to the centerfield flagpole just before a band of the Breed who were intent on hauling down the Yankees world champions pennant.

Piersall was upset enough that the bat slipped out of his hands while he was batting in the third inning. It sailed into the box seats along third base and cracked a ruan in the ribs. He is Deputy Police Commissioner William L. Rowe.

No great damage done. The ribs were taped and Jimmy got his bat back. He got it back in time to single to right and launch a decisive, five-run burst against troubled Yankee pitcher, Stan Williams.

Jim Edwards, formerly of Hope and son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Edwards, apparently is doing a fine job as City Recreational Director for Richardson, Texas. Yesterday, the Star ran an article from a Richardson newspaper which told of the fine work Jim is doing.

Nicklaus Has Row to Hoe in Nat'l Open

BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP)—The U.S. Open golf championship moves into its second round today with a "who he?" in front, Arnold Palmer and Gary Player in trouble and defending champion Jack Nicklaus with his broad back squarely to the wall.

"I'll have to shoot a 65 or 67 to get back into it, a discouraged Nicklaus said after his horrendous 76 Thursday left him seven strokes behind the leader—Michigan club pro Bob Gajda.

"The way things are going, I don't know, I don't know, the Ohioan, 23, added. "I certainly don't feel very good about it. It was my worst round in the open since 1959 and my worst of any kind in a long, long time."

No one looks to Gajda, 46, Bloomfield Hills, Mich., bachelor, to duplicate the sizzling 2-under-par 60 he fired on opening day at the windswept and rain-dampened old course of The Country Club that stretches 6,870-British type yards and plays to a par of 35-36-71.

But there are 43 players ahead of Nicklaus and 19 others tied with him. Many are capable of matching Nicklaus shot for shot in this 72-hole grind that ends with Saturdays 36-hole double round.

At 70 is Texan Jacky Cupit, 25, tabbed as one of the bright new stars of the game. At 71 are red-hot Tony Lema, former champion Julius Bros, and veteran Lionel Hebert along with Davis Love, 18, a club pro from Charlotte, N.C.

Such as Don January and Walt Burkemo opened with 71s, Palmer landed in a big group at 73 and Player in a bigger batch at 74.

Atabrine May Be Tried in Lung Cancer

By FRANK CAREY

Associated Press Science Writer

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Scientists are exploring the possibility of using Atabrine—the armed forces' prime drug weapon against malaria early in World War II—as a kind of "Trojan Horse" to fight lung cancer.

The idea would be to use Atabrine, which itself has no effect on cancer, as a vehicle for transporting radiation—or cancer-fighting drugs to the site of the malignancy—without harming normal tissue enroute.

It would be much like the way the ancient Greeks used their wooden "gift" horse to sneak their warriors inside the walls of Troy.

Drs. Alvin Shemesh and Norman B. Ackerman of the University of Minnesota Medical School told about it in a statement prepared for the closing session of the American Medical Association's 12th annual meeting today.

The Minnesota researchers said they had found that Atabrine, and other compounds of the "amino-acridine" family, have a tendency to concentrate most heavily in the lungs and liver when administered to experimental animals.

Declaring that Atabrine and some of its chemical cousins can be made to fluoresce, or "glow," when exposed to ultra-violet light, they said they used this technique to trace the distribution of such chemicals in the tissues of animal lung tissue would "light up" mors had been implanted at various sites.

Some of the compounds, including Atabrine, were strongly concentrated by tumors in the lungs.

Within minutes after administration, the tumors and the normal lung tissue would "light up" but by 24 hours the glowing would be limited to the cancer area which would remain bright for about four days.

The doctors said lung tumors in animals can be identified and pinpointed in the lung area by this method when the chest is opened surgically—and they thereby implied that the method might offer a way to aiding diagnosis of lung cancer in suspicious human cases.

They also reported they are now working on a new slant.

They have procured radioactive forms of Atabrine and are using them in lung-tumorous rats to study the effect in the cancer.
